Program Format

International Collaboration and Exchange Program Preparing Global Leaders for Healthcare

"...The future of our global healthcare world lies in the international collaborative competencies of the next generation of healthcare leaders..." (Dr. Anette Wu)

Weeks 1-4 & 6-7: Lecture Weeks

- At the start of each week, two pieces of reading material will be provided for the topic. Participants to meet during the week in small groups to discuss the material and produce an assignment on the content (to be uploaded to the ICE Drive by 00:00 EDT on Fridays).
- On the weekend of each week, a guest speaker will give a 30 minute talk on the topic, followed by a 15 minute Q&A, and 30 minute meet and greet.
- The meet and greet sessions will be an opportunity to meet your fellow participants in smaller breakout rooms, giving you a chance to take part in ice-breaking activities, and learn more about other cultures and languages.

Weeks 5 & 8: Discussion Weeks

- The topic of each discussion will be provided at the start of the week so that participants can familiarise themselves with the content. Each discussion will be based around one of the preceding lecture weeks.
- On the weekend of the discussion, there will be small groups each allocated to debate in favour of different views.
- There will be 30 minutes for the groups to meet on Zoom and formulate their argument and points; after which, the groups will be brought back together, and each person given 3-5 minutes to make their argument.

Participant Information

International Collaboration and Exchange Program Preparing Global Leaders for Healthcare

"...The future of our global healthcare world lies in the international collaborative competencies of the next generation of healthcare leaders..." (Dr. Anette Wu)

Programme goals:

- Improve understanding of cultural competency, including other customs, beliefs and stigmata.
- Learn about other healthcare systems.
- Learn about public and global health challenges.
- Appreciate of differences in medical ethics and laws.
- Network, including the formation of intercollegial friendships.
- Learn about international collaboration and teamwork.
- Improve leadership skills.
- Learn about international science and research.

Additional notes for participants:

- Familiarise yourself with PubMed (or your University's research paper access).
- Create a (free) Zoom account, and please name yourself '[Your Name] – [Your University]' on calls.
- Be respectful of those who are publicly speaking.
- Make sure to ask questions in the Q&As.
- Small groups will be changed every two weeks.
- Each week, one small group will be allocated (in advance) to formally prepare questions for that topic's guest speaker (although all participants are encouraged to ask questions each week in addition!).

Tips on public speaking:

- Be prepared – know what you are asking, or what your point will be when debating.
- Be clear – make sure to ask questions which are unambiguous so that you get a relevant answer.
- You're amongst friends – this is a safe space, so if you're not experienced or confident, now's the time to practice your public speaking!
- Act confident and confidence will follow.
- Think while listening – consider what questions you may ask while listening to the presentations.
- Take notes – jot down important details to refer back to when asking questions or debating.
